RMK Management Corp. Celebrates “Resident Appreciation Month”
Special events planned to say ‘thank you’ to residents

CHICAGO (September 17, 2012) – RMK Management Corp. ended summer on a high note for its residents with a month of special events and activities in celebration of its annual Resident Appreciation Month in August.

“Our residents are an essential part of what makes our communities wonderful places to live, and our Resident Appreciation celebration is just one way we can say thank you and show how much we value them,” said Diana Pittro, executive vice president of RMK Management. “It’s also simply an opportunity for our residents to have a great time in their community. There’s something going on for everyone to enjoy, whether they want to learn a new skill, try a new sport or activity, or simply relax with friends and get to know new neighbors.”

This year, many of the 26 RMK communities throughout the Chicagoland and Minneapolis areas used an Olympics theme in their Resident Appreciation celebrations, in a nod to the London Games. Each community hosted weekly events including obstacle courses and sporting contests, pet parades, movie nights, special breakfasts, wine and cheese tastings, and fitness and cooking classes. Several communities wrapped up the month-long celebration with an end-of-summer pool party or barbecue.

“While we do special things throughout the year to let residents know how important they are to us, this month is really a highlight and something our residents and management team look forward to all year,” said Pittro. “It brings our residents together to meet new people, get to know the management team, and really build that sense of community that makes our RMK communities such great places to call home.”
